

BAPTIST RETIREMENT COMMUNITIES

Baptist Retirement Communities of Georgia began with the gift of the Winecoff Hotel on Peachtree Street, Atlanta, Georgia. Since its conception the Ministry has had a clear mission:

“To provide comfortable, attractive homes and services for senior adults at an affordable price enabling them to age in place in these homes within a Christian environment.”

For nearly four decades, hundreds of families have been blessed by this ministry. Today, there are three modern communities in the metro Atlanta area. Palmetto Park is nestled in South Fulton County appeals to seniors seeking a quiet retreat with the close convenience of city living. Clairmont Crest, in Decatur, offers high rise senior living in an urban setting. Hiawasse Park offers mountain views far from the busy Atlanta life.
