

BAPTIST RETIREMENT COMMUNITIES

Baptist Retirement Communities of Georgia began with the gift of the Winecoff Hotel on Peachtree Street in Atlanta, Georgia. Since its conception the Ministry has had a clear mission:

“To enrich the lives of senior adults by providing comfortable, attractive homes and services at an affordable price enabling them to age in place within a Christian environment.”

For nearly four decades, hundreds of families have been blessed by this ministry. Today, there are three modern communities in the metro Atlanta area. Palmetto Park, nestled in South Fulton County, appeals to seniors seeking a quiet retreat with the close convenience of city living. Clairmont Crest, in Decatur, offers high rise senior living in an urban setting. Hiwassee Park offers mountain views far from the busy Atlanta life.
