

HIAWASSEE PARK

CLAIRMONT CREST

PALMETTO PARK

From the North Georgia mountains on the shores of Lake Chatuge to the peaceful pastoral views of Southwest Georgia and the outskirts of bustling downtown Atlanta, BRCGA offers affordable housing for senior adults.

We are a community of life and faith that values each individual and their unique worth and contribution they bring us. We laugh, play, pray, sing, dance, and break bread together. We teach one another from the wellspring of our vast and varied life journeys as we continue to learn and grow. We share our stories, and we make new memories. We cultivate our minds, strengthen our bodies, and care for our souls. We are not just staff; we are family. We are not just neighbors; we are friends and partners through this extraordinary part of our journey together.

Our History

Baptist Retirement Communities of Georgia began with the gift of the Winecoff Hotel on Peachtree Street in Atlanta, Georgia. Since conception the ministry has maintained a clear mission:

“To enrich the lives of senior adults by empowering each individual to flourish while aging in place within a Christian environment”

For over five decades, hundreds of families have been blessed by this ministry. Today, there are three modern communities in the metro Atlanta area. Hiawassee Park offers mountain views far from the busy Atlanta life. Palmetto Park, nestled in South Fulton County, appeals to seniors seeking a quiet retreat with the close convenience of city living. Clairmont Crest in Decatur offers high rise senior living in an urban setting.
